

The sustainability manager's role in travel

Do you have a sustainability manager or a team?

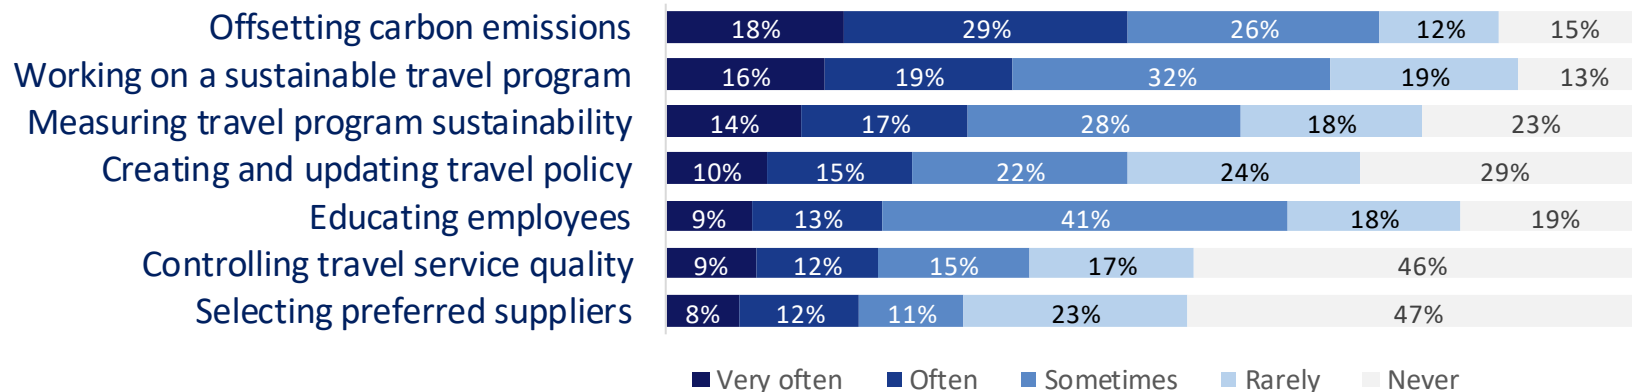

How often travel and sustainability managers interact

Three quarters of travel buyers report having a sustainability manager or a team accountable for sustainability matters in the company.

Of those, 40% of travel buyers regularly interact with their sustainability manager.

Role of sustainability manager in travel

Sustainability managers are most engaged with offsetting carbon emissions, working on a travel program or tracking its sustainability. Occasionally, they collaborate with travel managers around traveler education.

The least popular themes for sustainability managers to get involved in are travel supplier selection and service quality control.